

IOSH Managing Safely

Course Duration: 3 Days

Who will benefit from this course:

The beneficiaries of this course are those who manage and supervise in any sector and in organisations of all sizes. This course will give the attendees the information and tools needed on the practical actions they will need to tackle health and safety issues they are responsible for.

Aims and Objectives:

Occupational safety and health (OSH) are recognised as a key element of business management. Throughout the duration of this course the delegate attending will be really thinking about what they are learning and having the confidence to put it into practice when they are back at work. Managers and supervisors who attend will leave the course with the following amongst other assets:

- Ensures you can assess and control risks and hazards.
- Ensures you understand your own responsibilities for safety and health.
- Enables you to investigate incidents.
- Empowers you to measure your own performance.
- Allows for personal reflections on good practice
- Greater productivity within the workplace and improved company-wide safety awareness culture

Course Content:

The delegate attending will receive a globally recognised and respected certificated training course with peace of mind from the training that has been designed and quality-assured by the chartered body for safety and health professionals (IOSH). This will be achieved through the following course modules:

- Assessing Risks
- Controlling Risks
- Understanding Responsibilities
- Understanding Hazards
- Investigating Incidents
- Measuring Performance
