

Basic Fire Awareness and Fire Warden or Fire Marshall Training

Course Duration: ½ Day

Aim and Objectives:

Employees are trained how to react in the event that they discover a fire. The training involves a theory and practical session in which all candidates are given the opportunity to extinguish a real fire which is generated safely by our fire simulator.

Several staff are usually trained to be Fire Wardens for the purpose of:

- Testing fire alarms on a regular basis
- Visual checking of portable fire equipment
- Preventing means of escape becoming littered and blocked
- Trained to quickly evacuate staff and roll call
- Liaising with the fire brigade
- Supporting the management in fire safety.

Price per Person:

£95.00 + VAT Per Person

Training Location:

LTC Training Services, Wixenford Depot, Colesdown Hill, Plymouth, PL9 8AA

Course Start Time:

All courses unless agreed otherwise will commence at 8.15am

Certification:

Ace Fire Equipment (UK)Ltd certificate of attendance

Assessment:

The session usually takes around 2 hours to complete and all candidates will receive a certificate of attendance.

Equipment:

Candidates are not required to bring any special equipment. Writing material will be provided.

Max number of Candidates per Course:

A maximum of 20

Course Instructor:

Ace Fire have trained people for over 20 years and the training is carried out by our training and Fire Risk Assessor Mr Mike Healey who is an ex- Naval Petty Officer who was a Fire fighting instructor at HMS Raleigh, Torpoint. Instructing intermediate and advanced firefighting techniques to military personnel and also the civilian sector including the Devon and Cornwall fire Brigade.